AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

Blackburn Opposes the Payment of Whisky Bills.

Congress will not pay the House Where Lincoln died—A News-News of the Strike—Lynchings.

Associated Press Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The passage of the bill for the payment of Garfield's sickness and funeral expenses has been delayed for several weeks in the hope that Congressman Blackburn, of Kentucky, would leave the city, so that the bill might be approved without discussion or delay. Mr. Blackburn has made a report against allowing certain expenses incurred for liquors and cigars on the funeral trip. He has in his possession facts showing how much money was spent for whisky, brandy, wine, etc., which he proposed to lay before the House when the report of the Auditing Committee is called up. Blackburn will be absent next week, but he informed your correspondent to-day that he would make arrangements with Judge Taylor that the report should not be called up in his absence.

FIXING UP THE NAVY.

The draft of the Naval Appropriation Bill which is printed proposes, it is said, to appropriate $1,000,000 for completing the four monitors now in the stocks along the Delaware river, and $275,000 for finishing the monitor Monitorack at Mare Island Navy Yard, California, and $100,000 for the purchase of breech-loading steel guns. The aggregate amounts which the bill appropriates is a little more than $1,500,000. It is further said that the draft of the bill contains some proposed legislation on the subject of reorganizing the navy, and provides, among other things, for abolishing the rank of commodore.

The Senate and House committees on public buildings decided to report adversely on the proposition to buy the house in which President Lincoln died.

MISS ACKELSON'S INSTITUTE.

The Examination of Scholars and Closing Exercises. The closing exercises of the "Institute for Young Ladies," under the management of Miss Susan Ackelson, took place Friday in the Presbyterian Church, on Fort street. The examinations were conducted orally, and showed a good degree of proficiency.

The exercises consisted of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc., by the pupils, and examinations by the teachers. Miss W. Ellis delivered a few remarks upon the benefit of educating the girls. He referred to his mother, and the good education she possessed at a time when the education of women was looked upon as a matter of indifference, or greatly neglected. Now people thought differently of these things, and women were receiving greater attention in educational matters. Now we had lady doctors, lady preachers, lady lawyers, lady bookkeepers, lady clerks, and so on through all the lines. He advised the young ladies students to commit to memory the rules of the different professions of mathematics, and illustrated it with various personal experiences. He also advised a vacation would, the best kind, and become familiar with the writing of the best poets. Their influence was refining. It entered into the life of the young ladies, and made them more chaste and polite. His remarks were made in a very happy manner.

Miss Susan Ackelson, the teacher, made some closing remarks. She said she had done her best to add to the numbers and efficiency of the school, and in this was thankful for the substantial aid she had received from her patrons, and would be pleased to receive a continuance of the same. The school had been in session forty-two consecutive weeks, and a vacation would be had till August 15. As scholars were received at any time, these oral examinations were forcedly varied, and did not show off the scholars to the best advantage.

The house was filled with the friends and patrons of the school, who were all present at the exercises, which were decidedly meritorious.

The redistricting of the city wards into five, so as to equalize the city vote was ordered. It was voted to appoint a committee of five, one from each ward, to redistrict the city.

The chair appointed Cohn, of the Fourth Ward (chairman); Mullaly, of the First Ward; Teed, of the Second Ward; Sears, of the Third Ward; and Weyse, of the Fifth Ward, as the said committee.

DROWNED.

Chauncey S. Hutchins and John M. Averill

Were Drowned Yesterday Afternoon in the East Los Angeles Reservoir—Bodies not Recovered.

Yesterday evening the sad news was quickly conveyed by word of mouth through our city of the death, by drowning, of Chauncey S. Hutchins, aged seventeen years, and John M. Averill, aged nineteen years, in the irrigating reservoir, known officially as "D-E," in East Los Angeles, over the hill at the east end of Downey avenue.

The facts as near as can be gathered during the excitement of the hour are these: The two young men, who were both good swimmers, went in bathing in the reservoir between four and five o'clock in the afternoon, accompanied by Hutchins' little brother. The three procured the boat there, and were enjoying themselves when, at about five o'clock, the boat was overturned, and the boys were drowned. The bodies were recovered, and having been placed in the boat, they were taken to the morgue. After the boys were in the boat, the boys, either from exhaustion or in their sport, remained in deep water, and in a few moments to the horror of the rescuer boy, Averill and his brother were not to be seen.

Miss Susan Ackelson, the teacher, made some closing remarks. She said she had done her best to add to the numbers and efficiency of the school, and in this was thankful for the substantial aid she had received from her patrons, and would be pleased to receive a continuance of the same. The school had been in session forty-two consecutive weeks, and a vacation would be had till August 15. As scholars were received at any time, these oral examinations were forcedly varied, and did not show off the scholars to the best advantage.

The house was filled with the friends and patrons of the school, who were all present at the exercises, which were decidedly meritorious.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. J. Johnson, son of James W. Johnson, arrived from Wellington, Kansas, a few days ago, to remain permanently.

T. M. Plotts, of the firm of Riggs & Plotts, expects his son from Albuquerque, N. M., to locate here in a few days.

Dr. Sinsabugh was as far east as Philadelphia during his trip East. He returns in good health, but pleased evidently to be once more at home.

Pasadena.

James Campbell, Esq., has just commenced upon his new house near the Presbyterian church. It is to cost five thousand dollars. Mr. Hume, recently from Colorado, is the contractor.

All over the plains eastward from Pasadena are new colonies of vineyards and orchards. At the present rate of growth, one year hence there will not be an unimproved acre of land in the valley.

Petition of A. Davidson to remove an adobe was granted.

Report about grading Suisun street was accepted.

Petition of Coulter et al. about the grading of Bunker Hill avenue, reporting adversely, adopted.

Petition of L. Harris for the use of half of Temple street, and not Spring street, was granted.

In regard to certain nuisances of the S. P. R. Co., on San Pedro and Alameda streets, and that of the Los Angeles Water Co., about failing to repair their mains; and furthermore, if the Spring Street Railroad Co. does not fix the road before the 15th inst., up to Commercial street, within twenty-four hours, the captain of the chain gang be ordered at once to fill the dangerous spot with gravel by order of the Council, and stop travel on said road till the company complies with the Civil Code.

S. C. Hubbell was allowed to speak on the latter clause of the report.

B. Cohn replied, controverting Mr. Hubbell's points.

City Attorney Hazard was called upon and gave his opinion on the report.

B. Cohn moved that the Council appoint an expert, the Spring Street Railroad Company a second, and they two a third, to examine the street right-of-way and report where the road does not comply with the ordinances. Carried.

Mr. Cohn moved that the Council appoint Wallace Woodward. Mr. Hubbell appointed John O. Wheeler his expert.

Voted that the balance of the report be adopted except the Spring street railroad. Carried.

Map of the grades of the streets of East Los Angeles was submitted, and citizens requested to meet the Board of Public Works next Thursday at 1 p. m.

The redistricting of the city wards into five, so as to equalize the city vote was ordered. It was voted to appoint a committee of five, one from each ward, to redistrict the city.

The chair appointed Cohn, of the Fourth Ward (chairman); Mullaly, of the First Ward; Teed, of the Second Ward; Sears, of the Third Ward; and Weyse, of the Fifth Ward, as the said committee.

In regard to declaring certain things to be nuisances was laid over for one week.

Resolution establishing the grade of San Pedro street was adopted.

Resolution concerning the grade of Bunker Hill avenue was read by the clerk. The protest of Dotter et al. against grading Bunker Hill avenue at the crossing of Court House street was also read by the clerk.

Will D. Gould was also heard on the same subject.

B. Cohn moved that action be deferred for two weeks, that time the property owners make known their grievances. Carried.

Mr. Cohn as chairman of a special committee presented the grade of new school houses, one in East Los Angeles and one in front of the French hospital, and moved that the clerk advertise for bids according to the plans and specifications to be handed in up to the next meeting of the Council, and that each bid be accompanied by a check of $250. Carried.

The Finance Committee reported favorably on the following bills: Los Angeles gas company, $185.00; Balesley, $9.40; Zanjero, $76.00, and warrants ordered drawn.

The Finance Committee also reported favorably on the petition of General Meyer to allow redemption of $118 on taxes, and also that Mr. Bulo's bill of $78 be allowed, and warrants drawn.

Voted that the Chief of Police be instructed to enforce the law against teams trotting across the East Los Angeles bridge.

Report of City Auditor filed.

The health officer reported that there were $9.15 worth of vaccine matter in the Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express office. Warrant ordered drawn to get it out.

REVIEWS.

You can look for warm weather when the fly begins to put on its spurs.

The Boston Herald says: "Boston is a cheerful city. The word 'cheerful' is a cheerful word, but of the difference to the market men."

Centrally and pleasantly located—just the place—Gardner's Confectionery and Ice Cream Parlor, 36 Main Street, under Grand Central Hotel.

The celebrated Britishers claim we have no literature of our own. They might be right, but our literature is in the streets.

Of all the duels fought in Paris last year but eight resulted seriously. Our youth should be induced to give up base-ball for dueling.

Mrs. W. R. Hughes, Fashionable Dress Maker, recently from San Francisco, has located at 111 Main Street, opposite Pico House, Los Angeles. First class work warranted. Bridal and party dresses a specialty.

The elevation of Mr. Bass, the English brewer, to a baronetcy, recalls Theodore Hook's witicism—that people might be better off if they were called "baronets" instead of "barons."

Wanted—All kinds of second-hand goods, such as household goods, clothing, furniture, etc., for sale at low prices. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Peter Cooper has addressed a tremendous petition to Congress on behalf of treasury notes as the exclusive paper currency of the country. Peter has got to do something to kill time as he has no work.

A full line of pure home made canned goods, 36 Main Street, under Grand Central Hotel.

Why is a Fall river spinner so much like a base-ball player? Easy enough; because he is so often out on his toes.

Henry Ward Beecher declares that neither Cavour nor Thiers equalled Gladstone as a statesman. That's a very safe remark to make. Cavour and Thiers are dead. Gladstone is alive and in a position to grant favors.

A first-class Confectionery and Ice Cream Parlor, 36 Main Street, under Grand Central Hotel.

A Norfolk, Va., paper announces that George Washington introduced medals to this country. We imagine we hear George saying: "Mules, mules, my country; my country, I make you acquainted with mules."

John L. Slaughter, corner of Second and Spring streets, Los Angeles, manufacturer of medals in saddle, harness, and every thing pertaining to the harness business, and all at bedrock prices.

"Yes," he said, "I was in the late war, and my record shows I fought well. But I never mention it. You see, I've got rich since, and everybody thinks that I'm an expert. If I was poor now, I'd boast of it."

Travelers can enjoy the delightful pleasures of the bath at Susan's magnificent bathing room, 55 Main Street, where the best of hot and cold shower baths, special arrangements are made for ladies, with separate entrances.

A Boston patriarch who met Lafayette in social circles during his last visit to America, can remember nothing remarkable in his appearance except that his ears were very large. Lafayette was in enormous luck to die when he was old. If he were alive today, he might have to endure the wretchedness of being mistaken for a Milwaukee editor.

A full line of Roberts' choice candies at Gardner's, 36 Main Street, under Grand Central Hotel.

A correspondent of the Chicago Times says: "The majority of men who had anything to do, however, continued supremely indifferent to the royal wedding. I have not been able to find a single acquaintance who had read the account of the wedding in the morning papers. Just so! There was nothing scandalous in the affair. Who should you expect people to be interested in it?"

Before leaving the city do not fail to call at Susan's magnificent bathing room, 55 Main Street, where the best of hot and cold shower baths, special arrangements are made for ladies, with separate entrances.
